

Knysna Tourism

Posted on October 13, 2012 by admin

The CEO of Knysna Tourism has been suspended by the Board pending a disciplinary hearing. No one seems to know what is going on other than the fact that they have already spent most of their budget.

And now, the vultures that are gathering. One in particular whom I am familiar with. A fair weather friend who goes by the name of Wicked Mike. He was offering courses, at a cost to the ratepayers, which had no practical and discernable value. And when Shaun van Eck made a decision to “postpone” the project all hell broke loose.

In desperation Wicked Mike turned to the DA soon after they assumed responsibility for the Knysna Municipality. And it didn't take long for him to turn on them too.

He is a man who has mastered the art of double speak, a clever person with a lot to say and nothing really constructive to offer. One of lifes victims that will hopefully fall off the edge of the world he is trying to create and manipulate.

Posted in Projects | Tagged citizen rights, esme edge, Greg Voigt, knysna, knysna tourism, knysna tourism board, michelle wasserman, shaun van eck | Leave a comment